Subject: Growth Projections

Dear Director Erika Shook,

The Population Projection document is very well done.

The decision to choose a growth projection that relates to the growth of Washington State is logical.

My main concern is that Climate Change refuges will significantly increase growth in western WA and in San Juan County over the next 20 years.

Because climate projections have consistently under estimated the actual changes, the impact of Climate Change on San Juan County population growth is likely to be underestimated.

Thank-you for your excellent work.
